A Note From Our Pastor

Very Rev. Michael Wallack

My Dear Parishioners,

This week we celebrate the Solemnity of the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus, The Immaculate Heart of Mary, and the Feast of Saints Peter and Paul. What a collection of feasts! Friday we celebrated the Feast of the Sacred Heart. Devotion to the Sacred Heart is based on the sublime doctrine of the Incarnation, which teaches us that the Son of God became man by uniting to Himself a human nature, so that He is one divine Person in two natures, the nature of God and the nature of man. The reason why we select the Heart of Our Lord for special veneration is that the human heart is a symbol of love. In our ordinary speech we refer to the heart as the source of a person's affection and devotion. Now, since Our Divine Lord has certainly shown His love for mankind in an extraordinary degree from the very beginning of His life until His death on the cross, we naturally desire to venerate His Heart by a special form of devotion. Such is the devotion of the Sacred Heart.

The human Heart of Christ also reminds us of the eternal love which He, in union with the Father and the Holy Ghost, has maintained for us from all eternity. It is the wish of the Church that all her members foster a great love for the Sacred Heart. Besides instituting the Feast, which we celebrate annually on the Friday after the Octave of Corpus Christi, the Church has composed a beautiful Litany in honor of the Sacred Heart, together with an Act of Consecration for public devotions. Holy Communion on every First Friday in honor of the Sacred Heart is also an approved Catholic custom.

On Pentecost, Our Lady was present with the Apostles when Our Lord sent the Holy Spirit upon her Immaculate Heart and upon the Apostles. Let us contemplate this masterpiece of Pentecost, and admire the new loveliness that beams in Mary from this second Maternity. She is inflamed by the fire of Divine love, and this in a way not felt before. She is all devoted to the office put upon her, and for which she has been left on earth. The grace of the Apostolate is granted to her. She has received the tongue of fire; and although her voice is not to make itself heard in public preaching, yet will she speak to the Apostles, directing and consoling them in their labors. She will speak, too, to the Faithful, but with a force, sweetness, and persuasiveness, becoming one whom God has made the most exalted of his creatures. Let us pray with Our Lady in her Immaculate Heart and learn from her love and discipleship.

Saints Peter and Paul always stand out in my mind as pillars of faith in the love and mercy of Jesus Christ. They both show us what the power of the forgiveness of Jesus can do if we humble ourselves and allow Jesus to forgive us. They both wronged our Lord and by His mercy and grace were reconciled and strengthened to become the disciples He needed them to be. May the Love of the Most Sacred Heart move us to let go of our sins in the sacrament of confession and in all humility, like Peter and Paul, allow our Lord's most loving mercy heal us so we can become the disciples He is asking us to be.

Peace,
Fr. Mike

SS. PETER AND PAUL, APOSTLES

Ÿ. Praised be Jesus Christ... R. Now and forever!

*Nunc scio vere,
quia misit Dominus Angelum suum:
et eripuit me de manu Heródis,
et de omni expectatióne plebis Judæórum.*

*Now I know,
in very deed, that the Lord has sent His angel:
and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod,
and from all expectation of the people of the Jews.
Ps. 138:1,2*

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ, the Introit sets the tone of deliverance – not only from the perspective of physical danger, but also the artifice of human expectations. God has a plan for us all, including the martyrdoms by which these most noble apostles would glorify God. An interesting note is that the readings of today really focus on the goings-on with St. Peter, although Paul is also celebrated. They are celebrated together to underscore the universality of the Church – Peter is for the Jews; Paul is for the Gentiles – together, the mission is to the whole world.

The reading from Acts is an account of the persecution that so many Christians face, even today. James, son of Zebedee has been put to the sword, pleasing the Jews. Herod figures that two would be better than one, so Peter is captured. Peter is held, and is to be offered to the Jews as a spectacle – and he was closely guarded. We see the power of prayer and the will of God at work – truly an angel has been sent from God to rescue Peter from his predicament – and those very chains that fell from Peter may be seen this very day in the San Pietro in Vincoli, a minor basilica in Rome.

Our Gospel sees Our Lord questioning the apostles as to how He is identified by those who have been following Him. The answers are an amalgam of various possibilities – all holy men, and all who have died and gone on before. It is not beyond the scope of belief that Jesus is some kind of return or reincarnation. He then puts the question to the apostles – who do they say He is. Peter – always a bit “over the top,” jumps right in – and he lands, with both feet, on the correct answer. Jesus assures Peter of the divine inspiration of his answer – and then Our Lord chooses Peter as head of his fledgling Church – a papacy that has continued to our own Leo XIV. The authority of the Church and the papacy are both quite clear, and beyond dispute.

The Way of Perfection and The Interior Castle of OHM Teresa of Ávila are both works that describe the soul’s journey toward divine union, much like St. Paul’s teachings on transformation through Christ. She insisted that true endurance was not merely about surviving trials but about embracing them as a path to holiness. It is not about ‘feeling’ holey – it is about perseverance in the path of suffering that pleases our Lord – with ours joined to His. To Jesus Christ be all glory forever!

“God raises up someone to open their eyes and bid them look at the fog with which the devil has obscured their path. (How great God is! To think that just one man, or perhaps two, can do more by telling the truth than can a great many men all together!) And then they gradually begin to see the path again and God gives them courage. If people say there is danger in prayer, this servant of God, by his deeds if not by his words, tries to make them realize what a good thing it is. If they say that frequent communion is inadvisable, he only practices it the more. So, because just one or two are fearlessly following the better path, the Lord gradually regains what He had lost.”
